VENUE TO POLYTECHNIQUE WORKSHOP

HOW TO ACCESS TO ECOLE POLYTECHNIQUE?

The campus of Ecole Polytechnique is located in the South of Paris (48.712139, 2.210674). You'll arrive either at a train station in Paris, or at one of the 2 airports: Orly or CDG.

FROM TRAIN STATION

If you arrive at a train station in Paris, take the subway/metro to reach the RER train line B (<https://www.ratp.fr/en/>). Then, take it to the South to reach either Massy-Palaiseau station or Lozere station. Not all trains stop at every station, so check that the train will stop at the station you want to go to: there are big signs on the platform and a light should be on in front of the names of the stations the train stop at.

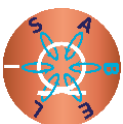

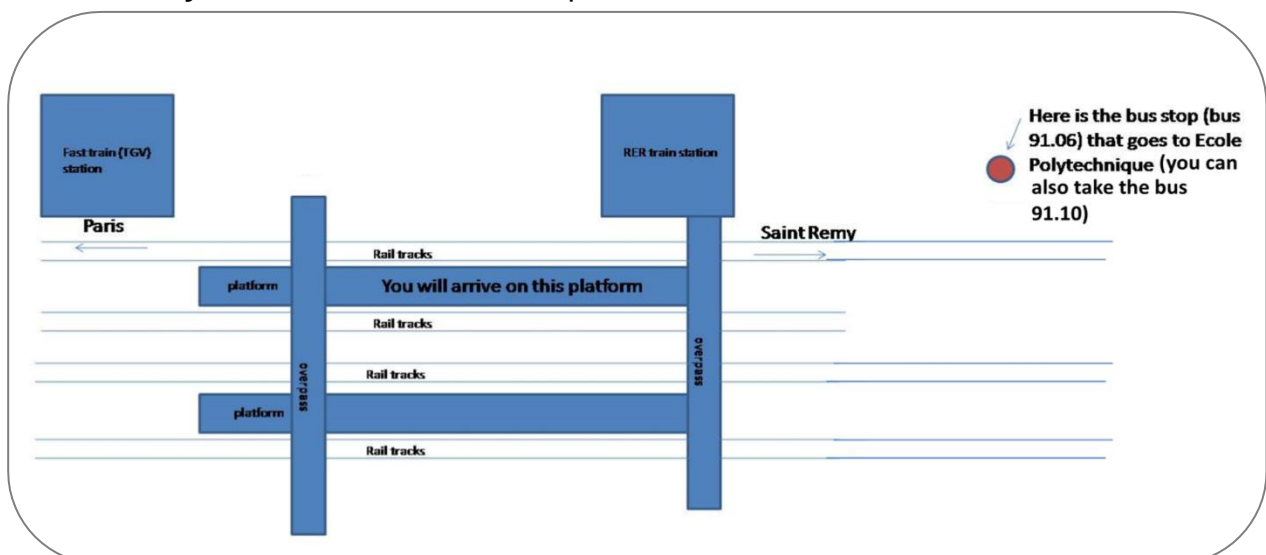

FROM AIRPORT

If you arrive at Orly, take the Orlyval shuttle which brings you to the RER B Antony station, from where you follow the same route.

If you arrive at CDG, hop directly onto the RER B line, from where you follow the same route.

After that, you have a choice: at Massy-Palaiseau, you can take a bus to the campus. At the Lozere station, you'll climb up stairs to reach the campus.

From Massy-Palaiseau, check the map below to catch the bus:

From Lozere, follow the foot path (in red on the map) to the campus:

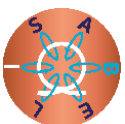

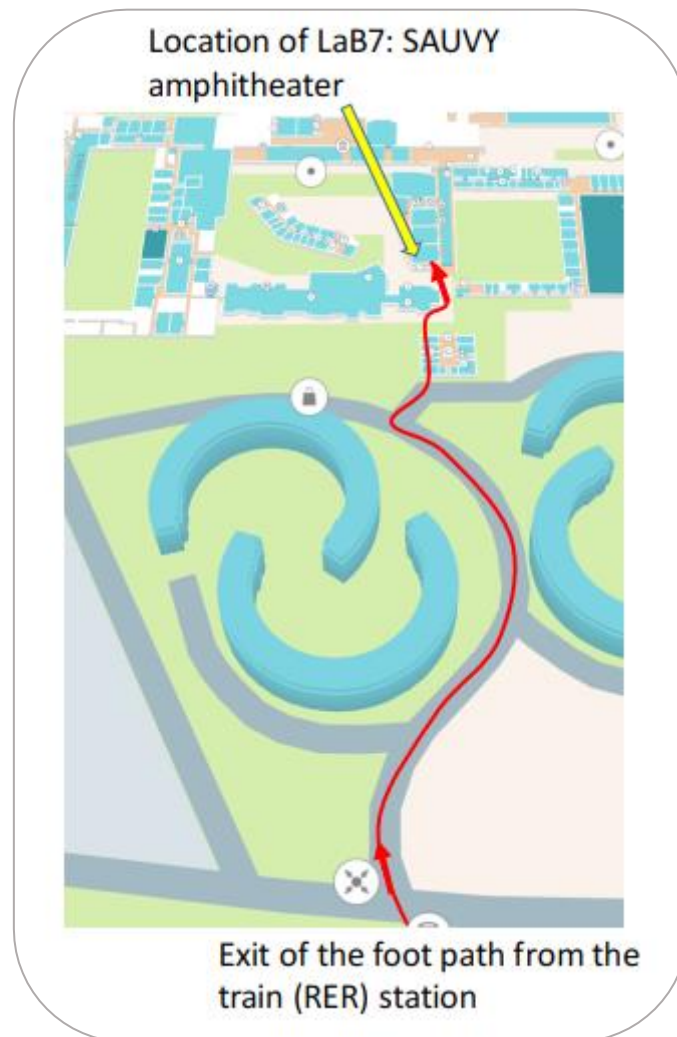

Once on the campus, here's a map to navigate on the campus (the foot path connects to the campus on the bottom right of the map below)
